

Parent Guide for Detentions

Detentions will be used as an opportunity for pupils to reflect on their behaviour, restore their relationship with the member of staff if appropriate, so that they are then able to return to learn after serving the sanction. Pupils may be issued a standards detention which is held at lunchtimes for persistent poor uniform or equipment issues. Should the pupil fail to attend the standards detention it will be upscaled to a red detention.

A pupil can be issued with a red detention after school. These are for 45 minutes and usually take place in the lecture theatre unless the pupil is directed elsewhere. All red detentions will take place on the following day from when they have been issued to allow us to notify parents via text message and give 24 hours notice of the detention. Should the pupil fail to attend the red detention, it will be upscaled to an SLT detention, which is on a Friday afternoon until 5pm. Pupils and parents/carers can also access this information using their Class Charts account.

Reason for the detention

Detentions may be issued for a number of behaviours which have been outlined in the school's Behaviour for Learning Policy (available on the school's website).
